Welcome to the International Social Sciences Program!

Congratulations! You have been accepted for the International Social Sciences Program (ISP) at Linnaeus University.*

ISP has been a popular program for many years because of the many different courses available through the program and broad range of employment that graduates of the program have taken up afterwards. In the first year you will follow a set of course courses that will prepare you for later years when you specialize in a particular social science or language subject of your choice, and take up opportunities to go on exchange abroad and internships. I extend my warmest welcome to you and look forward to working with you in the autumn and onwards. In advance, here is some important information:

Once you have registered, you will have access to the student homepage (lnu.se/student) you will be able to see information your courses, schedules, news and more. The course page for the first semester is 1SH150, and there is also a program page that you will have access to throughout your studies. You can find your schedule on TimeEdit - which you can find through the homepage – by using the course code 1SH150. Usually, the schedule is available by mid-August and sometimes earlier.

The semester will start on 2nd September with a program introduction meeting at 13.00-15.00 in K1211. You will also be able to see the meeting on TimeEdit and we'll make an announcement in MyMoodle, which is the learning platform we use. The meeting is mandatory, and you will get important information on the different parts of the program, as well as the shape of the overall program. If you are unable to participate in the introduction meeting, please contact me by email: Johan.Vaide@lnu.se

Welcome!
