

Dear student:

It is a pleasure to welcome you to the Master's Programme in Digital Humanities, to start in autumn 2023.

There are some things you need to do, before you start.

Obtaining a student account and register

Maybe you have already done this! You need a student account to be able to register for the Programme courses in Ladok, a national system for student records. Please get your account as soon as possible. Find information on how to do it here Lnu.se/en/student/new-student.

MyMoodle –the digital learning platform–class room

You will reach your pages on the learning platform when you login with your student account, using the same details you use for login at Lnu.se/Student. We use a digital learning platform called MyMoodle. It is very important that you are acquainted with the learning platform. This is where important announcements will be made, where you will have access to the schedule and it will be a tool that we use to communicate with you, so please keep an eye on it. If you have any questions about it, do not hesitate to ask.

Program room

Visit <https://mymoodle.lnu.se/course/view.php?id=47454> and read the information carefully and be sure to follow all the instructions to ensure that your start runs as smoothly as possible.

How to prepare for the studies and the first course

To prepare for the semester this fall, please make sure to consult the learning platform for the course. A good start to help with brushing up IT skills is a set of tutorials available at General IT skills for Digital Humanities on Vimeo. You are also advised to read Schreibman, S., Siemens R. G., & Unsworth, J. (2016). A new companion to digital humanities. Oxford: Blackwell. The e-book is available through the university library to which you can log in using your student credentials.

Further resources for your preparation:

Besides the resources already provided in the Welcome letter, we wish to make you aware of some more recent resources we have included to help you get yourself ready for your studies.

- Videos: We have put together a video series offering a more basic (and casual) introduction to working with computers here: <https://mymoodle.lnu.se/mod/page/view.php?id=3966780>
- Book: Check out Johanna Drucker's (2021) The digital humanities coursebook: An introduction to digital methods for research and scholarship, which offers a great introduction to the field and which will be drawing upon quite heavily. You will find it available through the university library if you log in using your student credentials.

Welcome meeting, 28 August, 11-12 am hrs Swedish Time

Please save the date! We will have an information meeting on 28 August, 11-12 hrs, Swedish time. The meeting will provide you with information about the program and be an opportunity for you to meet your teachers and ask any questions you might have. The meeting location will be <https://lnu-se.zoom.us/j/66754035727>. The meeting will be recorded and uploaded to Program room in case you cannot attend.

Course start: Introduction to Digital Humanities, 4DH400, 28 August, 13-14 pm hrs Swedish Time

Tuition fees

If you have questions about tuition fees, please visit Lnu.se/en/student/new-student/tuition-fees-and-scholarships/

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact Koraljka Golub, koraljka.golub@lnu.se (teacher) or Helena Rydén helena.ryden@lnu.se (administrator).

We hope you enjoy studying with us!

PS.

Registration opens one week before the autumn semester starts and is open until 29 August. Students who are not participating actively during the first two weeks will be deregistered.

If you are not planning to study at Linnaeus University this autumn, please make sure to decline your place via your account on universityadmissions.se or notify Helena Rydén (helena.ryden@lnu.se). We can then remove you from the list and offer your place to someone else on the waiting list.
